LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Grow On Yew Dell...Grow On!

Are we there yet...? Is spring finally here? Well the only answer I can give is that spring is in the mind of the beholder. Whenever you think it's spring...then it's spring. It really just comes down to frame of mind rather than astronomical happenings or planetary transits.

And what a spring it's turning out to be!

For 2018 we have a ton on tap. Our new expanded Opening Weekend – formerly the Hellebore Day Celebration – will feature the opening of our award-winning Garden Gift Shop, Fairy Forest Fun, tours of the gardens (which have never looked better, by the way!) and even a pruning workshop. We've hired a new garden manager (more on that later) and created a new greenhouse and nursery manager position to help us grow more cool plants. We're bringing back the Sculpture Show, sort of, this time in a 2D format – a single artist show for the whole season (more on that later too). We've upped the ante with our annual Plant Sale to include, a new Friday evening, members-only Plant Sale Preview sale (hint, hint...make sure your membership is up to date!) featuring not only outstanding plants, but also some tasty bites, adult beverages and maybe even a spirited rare plant auction to round out the evening.

With so much going on you might be asking yourself “How are they doing it all and what can I do to help?” (Ha! You should know better than to ask that question around here!) Well here's what you can do...support Yew Dell's annual Grow On campaign. This annual fund drive seeks essential funds – beyond membership – to help us expand children's programming, add new plants, diversify gardens, build pollinator meadows and blaze trails. Funds generated through the Grow On campaign allow us to expand our behind the scenes operation to support all the amazing people who make this place work.

Are we there yet...? Not quite. But with your help we march ever closer!

Happy Gardening...
Paul Cappiello
Executive Director

ON THE COVER:
Phlox divaricata Plum Perfect

This native woodland bloomer is known as a great performer in shady spots but it is surprisingly sun tolerant as well. Growing to just 6-8" tall, it creeps slowly to create a delicate mat of fine foliage. The mid-spring blooms are a delightful lavender blue and last for several weeks.

Yes, I would like to help Yew Dell GROW ON with an Annual Campaign gift!

16th Annual Plant Sale Rolls Out New Format! April 27/28

Can you believe it...? Sixteen years of amazing plants. Every year, the weekend before Derby (the date by which all Kentuckians set their watches) Yew Dell brings you the very best plants to be had. We started very modest way back in 2003 with a bunch of plants we begged, borrowed and stole (sort of!) just to get the effort off the ground. And over the years we've expanded, diversified and grown. And with that growth, the increasingly popular members-only first hour was getting a little crazy. So we decided it's time for a little change . . .

Friday Evening Members Only Event

We figured, what gardener doesn't love a good party to go with great plants? So on Friday evening, April 27 (6-8:30pm) we'll fling open the gates and invite in all those who support us with their annual membership for an evening of plants, drinks, snacks and an all-around great time. We'll still have our Saturday morning (9am) members-only hour but make no mistake...you won't want to miss the Friday evening offering.

Be the first to peruse the trees, shrubs, perennials, tropicals, shade plants, herbs, succulents and more. Have an exclusive chance to bid on specialty auction plants. Enjoy a beer or two from our neighbors at 3rd Turn Brewing and check out the Louisville Bonsai Society exhibit. Oh just for the heck of it . . . our first 500 attendees will receive an outstanding free plant courtesy of our friends at LG&E. Sorry, we're not tellin' you what it is . . . you just have to come to find out. All we can say is that it's a plant we love!

And if you're one of our $150 and over members, we have yet another thank you to share – a double purple columbine (Aquelegia), we like to call the Theodore columbine – a plant given to him many years ago by a local gardening friend and grown from seed right here in our nursery. You can't buy this plant anywhere. But you can get one for free at Yew Dell! Might want to bump up that membership level sometime soon . . .

So make sure your membership is up to date (you can check your renew date on the label of this newsletter), buy that first or long-expired membership at the door and plan to join us for the Yew Dell event of the season!

Saturday Plant Sale Event

So let's say you're not yet a member . . . (really? How long have you been reading this newsletter without being a member . . .) but you still want a shot at some top-notch Yew Dell plants. No problem. Saturday we fling open the gates as we always have – 9am for members and 10am for the general public. We'll have plenty of plants, kid's activities, the Louisville Bonsai Society's annual show, local plant, garden and environmental organizations sharing their knowledge, food and drink and more.

It'll all wind down by 3pm Saturday when our staff will all have a cold beer (if there's any left from Friday night!) survey the damage and get ready for the next big thing!

2018 Spring & Summer Events and Classes

Watch for emails and check our website for complete descriptions, program updates and additions.

Members-Only Plant Sale Preview and Purchase Party!

Friday, April 27; 6-8:30pm

Cost: Free for members (Not a member? Memberships for sale at the door!)

New for 2018! The Plant Sale has become an epic horticultural event, attracting passionate plant people from across the region. And to give our faithful members first and best shot at this year's plant offerings, we're throwing a party. Come by to hit the plant sales tables, enjoy some light snacks, cash bar (featuring brews from our friends and neighbors, 3rd Turn Brewing) and maybe even a silent auction of a few of the best and coolest plants around.

Art Makes a Return to Yew Dell – Laurie Tennent Botanical Portraits

If you've been missing the annual garden sculpture show you're not alone. We've missed it too. So this year we're bringing art back to the Garden with a one-woman show all season long.

Laurie Tennent is an astonishing talent who works with camera, garden and giant sheets of aluminum. Her printed botanical photographs are uber sized and can be placed indoors or out in the garden! Her close up and hyper-detailed images of ferns, flowers and more are completely unique and we're sure they'll be a giant hit.

The formal unveiling will be during the Friday evening Plant Sale Member Event on April 27. All pieces will be for sale with proceeds benefiting Yew Dell's ongoing programming.

Plant Sale Saturday!

Saturday, April 28; 10am-3pm

Members get in at 9am on Saturday!

Free with Regular Admission

If you've been... you know the drill. If you haven't... you'll want to put this one on your calendar. For one day only (no Sunday sale this year) take advantage of the best plant offerings this side of anywhere. Perennials, shrubs, trees, vines, tropicals, herbs and more... you'll find the best tried-and-true to the best of the new. Plan to get here early for best selection... free for Yew Dell Members (memberships available at the door!)

Hypertufa Workshop on Plant Sale Saturday

Instructor: Janice Morgan, Rental and Event Assistant

Saturday, April 28; 1-2:30pm

$35/$45 - Members/Non-members

Here's the perfect opportunity to create a horticultural masterpiece for your own garden. Yew Dell's Rental and Event Assistant and gardener extraordinaire, Janice Morgan, will guide you through the process of crafting your own hypertufa trough. Hypertufa containers are the perfect container for low maintenance plants like succulents and cacti and they are cool looking! After you are finished crafting your container, you can shop the Plant Sale for the perfect plants to reside in your new hypertufa creation!

Children in the Dell Saturday

Begins June 2; 10:30am-noon

Free with the admission of a parent or guardian Every Saturday morning through August 25th!

Join our usual merry band of kiddos in the Children in the Dell World Headquarters (aka the log cabin) rain or shine! This popular Saturday morning program is the perfect opportunity to give children a chance to spend some time with all that is green. Our energetic and creative educators will engage the children in everything from planting and growing veggies to nature-inspired scavenger hunts, and a whole lot more. Whatever happens to be in season will be the topic du jour. Intended for children from 5-10 years old. Parents must stay on the grounds and are invited to participate in the day's activities. Preregistration encouraged – drop-ins welcome as space allows.

Summer Nature Art Camp for Kids age 7-12

Session I:

Monday, June 4 – Friday, June 8; 9am-4pm

Session II:

Monday, June 18 – Friday, June 22; 9am-4pm

Session III:

Monday, July 9 – Friday, July 13; 9am-4pm

$155/$180 - Members/Non-members

Yew Dell and Louisville Visual Art's summer camp was such a success last year that we are expanding this year! The nature art summer camp will give children 7-12 the opportunity to explore the wonders of our botanical gardens through a creative lens. Imagine creating art in a castle or along our woodland trails! Artists will tap into their creative genius with guided curriculum and help from the great outdoors. The natural world offers the opportunity for children to draw, design, paint, sculpt and create their way toward beautiful works of art. To register please e-mail Ehren Reed at Ehren@louisvillevisualarts.org.

Farm to Table Dinner

Sunday, June 24; 6-9PM

$100/$120 Members/Non-members

Yes, we changed the name back to its original. No matter what it is called it is our eighth annual farm fresh event. This family-style dinner is always a hit. It's a welcome opportunity for friends to gather in the garden for a fantastic meal and a cocktail or two and to enjoy Yew Dell's stunning summer setting. This year will feature talented local chefs and locally sourced ingredients and lively local music from a duo version of Dozens of Dollars.

Build Your Own Fairy Garden

Instructor: Greenhouse/
Nursery Manager, Jacob
Stidham

Thursday July, 26; 6-7:30pm

$25/$35 Members/Non-members

Here is your chance to enter the ethereal world of fairies. This hands-on Fairy Garden building class will walk participants through the construction of their very own take-home container Fairy Garden. The class will feature all natural materials and will give you an opportunity to let your creative inner-fairy flow.

Garden Game Day

Saturday, July 21; 10am – 4pm

Free with Regular Admission

Ever wonder what it would be like to play croquet, badminton or Frisbee jam, but never had the chance? Maybe board games are more your style – well we are taking Yahtzee, Twister and Jenga outside! This event is your chance to bring your friends and family for a day in the garden playing a variety of classic and maybe soon-to-be classic games. Danny Flannigan and his band will provide live music from 1-3pm and adult refreshments and basic picnic fare will be available for purchase.

FROM THE GARDEN...

Notable Plants From Yew Dell's Collections

Chinese Ironwood (Parrotia subaequalis)

Milkweed
(Asclepias species)

Mexican Sage (Salvia leucantha)

Fragrant Aster
(Aster oblongifolius)

Yew Dell's plant mission is to collect and test as wide a variety of plants as we can get our grubby little gardener's hands on – put them through the wringer and then bring you the best of the best. So here is a sampling of some of our favorites for 2018.

Chinese Ironwood (Parrotia subaequalis) – One of the rarest and most endangered plants in our collection, this mid-sized tree from China was only first discovered in the wild less than 20 years ago. Our specimen was one of the first in the US, given to Yew Dell director Paul Cappiello by famed British plant explorer Roy Lancaster. The tree will grow to 30-40' tall, is widely adaptable, long lived and has hands down the best and longest lasting fall color of anything in the collection. Some of you have been waiting anxiously for us to get this one propagated and we're delighted to say that we will have a limited number at this year's plant sale! All we can recommend is...get here early!

Milkweed (Asclepias species) – From hardy perennials to tender tropical species, the milkweeds are in high demand this year. We love them for their tough, adaptable nature and of course their essential niche in supporting a healthy native pollinator population including our beloved monarchs.

Of course there's the well-known Butterfly Milkweed (A. tuberosa) that is, in addition to being a Perennial Plant Association Plant of the Year selection, a down right fantastic native plant. Orange/red summer blooms, drought tolerance, long lasting in the garden...this one has it all. Then there's the pink flowered Swamp Milkweed (A. incarnata) and the improved selection, 'Soulmate' – both better for sunny and less dry conditions. And if you're looking for something a bit more dramatic there's the Showy Milkweed (A. speciosa) with pink flowers that have been described as 4th of July fireworks! Finally, if you think you've exhausted your milkweed quota, there's the Tropical Milkweed (A. curassavica.) It grows like a (milk) weed, is a flower machine and its orange/red blooms are quite stunning.

And as you might guess...we'll have 'em all for this spring's sale.

Mexican Sage (Salvia leucantha) – If you are one of those last fall visitors who was agape at the stunning lavender blooms of this gem, you're in luck. We'll have a great crop of this tender perennial. Single plants grow to 4' tall and wide with silvery green foliage and absolutely stunning fall blooms. It loves the heat and sun (which we have in spades in KY!), is generally pest free and makes quite a fall show in the garden.

Fragrant Aster (Aster oblongifolius) – Whether it's 'Raydon's Favorite' or 'October Skies' these fall bloomers are the rage every time they bloom. Tolerant of hot sun and dry soils, they are so covered with purple/blue blooms in fall that you can't see the foliage. No need for pinching or staking! And the foliage has a pleasing minty aroma when crushed.

Tropical succulents, heucheras, tree peonies...wait. Am I supposed to be listing favorites? This is getting out of control. Come see us...and look for the plant sale list coming soon to an inbox near you!

WELCOMES AND GOOD LUCKS

Hort Apprentices Off to Great Futures

2017/18 hort apprentice Nick Kreevich will be leaving us in May – sad for us – to take a plum position at Longwood Gardens – good for him! - where he will work in the plant records department. We will miss his tremendous enthusiasm, constantly sunny disposition and, not insignificantly, his incredible mapping and photography capabilities. We know Nick will light the industry on fire and wish him luck at Longwood!

Fellow hort apprentice Sayde Heckman will also be ending her apprenticeship in May – sad for us again – but will immediately fill the post of Yew Dell Garden Manager – very good for us! It's pretty simple . . . really. Sayde loves plants, she loves gardens and she loves sharing both with anyone and everyone. We're very happy she'll be joining the ranks and look forward to her bright future at Yew Dell.

Isabel Branstrom

New Hort Apprentices to Arrive

And just as Nick and Sayde finish up their year-long apprenticeships, we're delighted to introduce you to our next apprentice crop.

Isabel Branstrom is a recent graduate of Cornell University where she received a master's degree in horticulture. Isabel is a passionate gardener who just happens to have great interest in plant evaluation research. She will join us for the next year and will work closely with our horticulture and operations staff to chart the future of our ongoing plant evaluation research programs.

Issac Lechner

Issac Lechner graduates in May from Vincennes University (IN) and will fill our second hort apprentice slot. Isaac has an amazingly long landscape industry resume for someone just emerging from college. He is passionate about plants and is about as hard working as they come. We're excited to have him join the Yew Dell team and look forward to seeing where he decides to focus his considerable talents.

Welcome New Yew Dell Board Members

Sarah Cronan Spurlock

Sally Vail

We've been fortunate over the last few months to attract two talented individuals to serve 3-year terms on Yew Dell's board.

Sarah Cronan Spurlock joined the board early this year. She is an attorney with Stites & Harbison specializing in data security, health information privacy and data breach prevention and response. While that's quite a mouthful, we're looking forward to working with Sarah to grow Yew Dell and our programs.

Sally Vail is a life-long gardener, long time teacher (St. Francis School) and, along with her husband Thorne, has been a Yew Dell supporter from the very early days. She served on the 2017 Twilight in the Garden committee where she worked on auction items and a long list of other projects.

We are delighted to welcome both to Yew Dell's board.

WHAT'S GROWING ON!

2017 was a great year for volunteer achievement. We had 330 active volunteers donate a whopping 5,720 hours!
That's 1,140 more than the year before.

Job well done!

Volunteer of the Year: Debbie Bunger

Oldham County Master Gardener, Debbie Bunger, started volunteering at Yew Dell in April 2016. Debbie was first involved as a garden volunteer, coming out for our Second Saturday workdays and Special Events. Her involvement increased when she decided to adopt the Overlook Garden. Our longtime volunteer Patsy Harkess had been working in this garden for years, but one can only do so much in such a big garden! Debbie quickly stepped up to the plate and independently recruited several other talented Oldham County Master Gardeners to help her tackle this big project. She kept the momentum going throughout our growing season, coming out every Thursday morning at 8am. She always came bearing treats for Remington, the garden cat, and refreshments for her fellow gardeners on their meeting days. From ripping out Butterfly Bush to weeding wild onion, Debbie continued on with an unwavering positive attitude. We are so fortunate to have Debbie involved in our Volunteer Program. Not to mention, she helped recruit volunteers to help us move plants the week before Plant Sale! She is unstoppable and a tremendous addition to our Volunteer Program. Thanks for keeping our gardens growing, Debbie!

Tour Guide of the Year: John Embry

John Embry has been involved with Yew Dell for years and joined our Volunteer Program with his wife, Carolyn, in the spring of 2016. Ever since attending tour guide training, he has hit the ground running. John has brought fresh new ideas to our tour guide program, including Second Saturday tours. He not only gave tours, but would recruit people to take the tours! John and his wife have been wonderful ambassadors of Yew Dell. We are so lucky to have him as a representative in the community. Thanks, John, for helping spread the word and keeping the enthusiasm for Yew Dell alive!

Youth Volunteer of the Year: Raena Burns

Raena started volunteering for Yew Dell in May of 2017. She first came out with her aunt, Kathy Jansing, who is an Oldham County Master Gardener. Alongside her aunt, Raena built fences, swings and other adorable accessories for the fairy garden. However, she didn't stop there. Raena came out, rain or shine, for fairy fun Thursdays throughout the summer. She helped children build their own fairy houses. Beyond the fairy garden, Raena helped with children's crafts at the Summer Hummer Buzz Fest, set up and hosted at Twilight and assisted with the hay maze and games at Boo Dell. Yew Dell is lucky to have such a dynamic and compassionate youth volunteer involved in our Program. Thank you, Raena, for being such a great role model!

Thanks to these outstanding volunteers who were honored at our annual volunteer celebration!

GROWING YOUNG GARDENERS

STONE ART

Spring is here and we are all itching to get out and get back in touch with nature. Even if its a little wet to work in the garden stones are always around no matter what the conditions are outside. To make a stone art craft you will need to gather a collection of stones, river rocks or pebbles. They are easy to find just about anywhere; in landscaping, on the beach, by creeks or even at your local craft store.

While searching for your stones let your creative juices flow! Think about the stone's shape, color and other details and what they remind you of. When you bring your stones home, wash them off and air dry them. Now its time to get creative! There are a few direction you can go:

Creature

Use acrylic paint to create a creature and Sharpie to add detail. Once you have finished your work of art, add a coating of Modge Podge (available at local craft stores) to seal your stone.

Inspirational Messages

Stones are fun to leave in public places as a surprise act of kindness for others to find. Simply use a Sharpie or fine brush and acrylic paint to write your message. Add a coating of Modge Podge to seal your stone so your message can be read for a longer period of time.

Framed Stones

Find an appropriate frame and create groupings of stones on a piece of cardboard or card stock paper cut to fit the frame. Super glue (hold the stone 10 seconds) your creation to the cardboard, allow glue to dry thoroughly and place in the frame. Voila! You now have a piece of framed stone art.

You can also Google 'stone art' and really get rockin'!
