EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S LETTER

Beautiful St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands. We didn't plan to spend our annual February get away here, but back in September, Hurricane Helene decided to deposit 2 feet of sand in the middle of the condo we have rented for the last 15 years. So, my brilliant wife did her usual masterful work of finding the perfect place, for a not too unreasonable cost. So here we are, overlooking the greenest of greens, and the turquoise-est of turquoise waters, and with my mind finally quieting down (admittedly, after a few days pondering this view), my mind is wandering back 20+ years to when I first jumped into the whirlwind of a project called Yew Dell.

How could have any of us predicted where we'd be today? A staff of more than 30 individuals, all brilliant in what they do and all passionate about this magical place. A nursery that has gone from a struggling collection of mismatched black pots, full of remarkable treasures, that sometimes only survived because we each took a few of them home to care for them over long holiday breaks. And now that nursery, brimming with hundreds of unique and much-sought-after treasures, pumps out thousands of the highest quality plants that inquiring gardeners can get their hands on.

But of course, later this spring we'll mark another in a long string of ever more amazing accomplishments – the unveiling of the long-anticipated Castle Gardens. Without question our biggest and most complex effort of the last 20+ years, this addition to an already internationally-renowned collection of gardens raises the bar ever higher. With design leadership from Richard Hartlage and his team at LandMorphology, the end result is a synergistic soup that involved so many of our staff, our general contractor partners at E-Z Construction, and without question, the constant encouragement of so many friends, members, donors, and volunteers, who through it all, kept urging us along the long and winding road.

Whether it's for a Castle Gardens ribbon cutting, or a class or a concert, lunch at Martha Lee's Kitchen, the Fairy Forest with the kids, or a hike on the trails, this is the season... the year, to make Yew Dell a habit. Come often. Stay as long as you like. And make a few memories that you might just reflect on, 20 years down the road.

Happy Gardening!

Paul Cappiella

Spring Doesn't Last Forever

Top Reasons to Visit Yew Dell This Spring

Whether you come every week or haven't been in years, this is the spring to come early and come often.

As Ferris Bueller says, "life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around, you could miss it."

In the garden, things come and go in a flash. Whether it's the delicate perfume of winter-blooming witch hazels, fleeting shades of a woodland wildflower, or those stunning deciduous magnolias that make us all go weak in the knees, spring is the, "if you snooze you lose" time of year.

Coming out regularly is the only way to catch it all.

But since we all need an occasional kick in the pants, we're shining up our boot tips to provide a little extra encouragement. In the spirit of our efforts to be more in the moment in the garden, we will be turning to our social media (Facebook & Instagram) feeds to cue you in to those ephemeral garden happenings that so often vanish before we have a chance to take them in. Magnolias pop into full bloom but it's gonna freeze in two days? We might just announce a last minute, pre-freeze magnolia walk. Something cool emerged from the raised beds in the nursery? Don't be surprised if Jeff puts out the word.

Of course we're secretly hoping that by committing to cueing you all in to all these micro-moments in the garden, it'll hold our feet to the fire so we keep our eyes open too!

Sing it with me... 27,000 flowering bulbs in the ground, 27,000 flowering bulbs...

Sayde and her team have really done it this year. And it's not just the 27,000 bulbs planted last fall. It's 27,000 NEW bulbs added to the staggering number already in the ground. It took a year's worth of planning color combinations, sequential timing charts (Someday, let us tell you about Sayde's spreadsheets!), and bed rotations to keep disease organisms from building up on one species over multiple seasons. Honestly, if Hannibal had Sayde and her team in charge of planning and logistics when he crossed the mountains to invade Rome, history might have taken a very different course!

And remember, The Big Bloom isn't some one-and-done affair. From the earliest snowdrops (Galanthus species) in February to the screaming blue squills (Scilla species), the hyacinths and tulips, and rounding out with the late ornamental onions (Alliums) and Fritillarias, this is a show that goes on February through June.

So make Ferris happy. The spring garden moves pretty fast. If you don't take a minute, you might just miss it!

You asked for it. We're Open!

Literally... you did. For the last few years, more and more visitors have been asking for us to open up earlier in the season. And sure, it might seem completely obvious to all of you, but we finally scratched our collective head and said to our collective self, "hey, if we're trying to get people to appreciate the magic of the early spring garden, wouldn't it help to actually be open that time of year?"

So, as you're reading this piece, yes, we're open. After years of using April 1 as our horticultural version of "riders up!" we opened up the beginning of March. Madge Huecker and her team have the Garden Gift Shop busting at the seams with awesome stuff. Jeff Margreiter has scoured the nursery for everything in bloom and filled the visitor center tables with all kinds of plant treats for your garden. And even our newest staff edition, Chef Mike Ross (more on him in a bit) will be starting off March with a few culinary teasers to whet your appetite for his full on offerings at Martha Lee's Kitchen in April.

CLASSES AND EVENTS

BLOOMS & BUBBLY: FLOWER ARRANGING WITH A TWIST

SUNDAY, APRIL 13 • 12:30 PM – 2:30 PM

MEMBERS $60 / NON-MEMBERS $70

What better way to spend a Sunday afternoon than sipping a mimosa, enjoying a few snacks, and playing with flowers? Join Yew Dell cut flower wizard, Jill Tinius, for this delightful offering. Jill will share pro tips on selecting, prepping, and arranging and then she'll guide you through crafting your own arrangement to take home. Using cuts right out of the garden, you'll use some of Jill's favorites like Anemones, ranunculus, tulips, shepherd's purse, and cut branches to craft your own masterpiece to take home. Ticketing fees include all supplies.

MOTHER'S DAY BRUNCH

SUNDAY, MAY 11 • 12:00 PM – 3:00 PM

Come admire the gardens and enjoy a lunch buffet for Mother's Day. We will be open with walk up seating- no reservation needed! Tickets for the buffet will be available for purchase at the door. Special cocktails will be available for purchase separately.

PERENNIAL PROPAGATION FROM CUTTINGS WITH JEFF MARGREITER

SATURDAY, MAY 17 • 10:00 AM – 12:00 PM

MEMBER $60 / NON-MEMBER $70

Nursery & Greenhouse Manager, Jeff Margreiter, will help you understand both the art and science of rooting vegetative cuttings to produce new plants. He'll help you appreciate a plant's incredible ability to self-replicate and will provide you with an understanding of correct technique, process, and materials to help you be successful. Participants will choose from a variety of different herbaceous and softwood species to take cuttings from and build a plug tray that will stay in our nursery until the cuttings are rooted through and ready to take home! We will contact you in a few weeks after the workshop for pick up. Ticketing fees include all supplies.

PLANT A PROPER MIXED CONTAINER WITH SAYDE HECKMAN

SUNDAY, MAY 18 • 1:00 PM – 3:00 PM

MEMBERS $75 / NON-MEMBERS $85

Anybody can throw a bunch of plants in a container and call it done. But it's not as easy as it looks. Join our in-house container gardening guru, Sayde Heckman, to plan and plant a mixed container that will give you months of enjoyment at home. Ticket includes container, lots of plants, and everything you'll need for your Spring planter.

SPRING PLANT SALE

FRIDAY, APRIL 25 • 4:00 PM – 7:00 PM

SATURDAY, APRIL 26 • 10:00 AM – 4:00 PM

INCLUDED WITH ADMISSION

If you need plants, this is the place to be! Yew Dell's annual Spring Plant Sale is the garden event of the season. Featuring hundreds of varieties of annuals, perennials... well... you name it! It's all produced right here in our own nursery, you also get access to our incredibly-knowledgeable horticulture staff who can answer your questions and help you pick out winner combinations for your own garden. And once you've filled your cart with plants, stop by Martha Lee's Kitchen for some of Chef Mike Ross's awesome fare to fuel you up for planting once you get home. Hit the Garden Gift Shop before you leave to round out a great day in the garden.

SPECIAL FRIDAY EVENING HAPPY HOUR PLANT BUYING OPPORTUNITY

Come Friday evening for the kickoff edition of our monthly Fabulous Fridays – Garden Happy Hour and cash in on early plant buying.

GARDEN TO TABLE DINNER PARTY

SUNDAY MAY 25 • 5:00 PM – 8:00 PM

$75

Up for a dinner party your friends will be talking about all summer long? Join us for the first in this series of seasonal, small dinner parties hosted in all the coolest little places around Yew Dell's gardens and grounds. This unique, intimate experience with passed appetizers, small plates, craft cocktails and sweet treats will all be curated and created by our own Chef Mike Ross. And this guy is as pumped up about awesome, fresh, local food as some of us plant geeks are about Himalayan blue poppies – and that's sayin' something. Only 40 spots will be made available for this inaugural event so get your group together and lock up a spot.

FAIRY DAY CELEBRATION 2025

SUNDAY, JUNE 1 • 12:00 PM – 4:00 PM

INCLUDED WITH ADMISSION

Kick off Fairy Month with our Fairy Day Celebration! Help us welcome the Fairies - and all the wee folk! - back to the Fairy Forest with a Fairy Parade at 12:30 PM. Experience the magic of the 2025 Fairy Forest, Tree Spirit Woodland Trails scavenger hunt, Fairy Doors in the Arboretum, family craft activity, and special Fairy-themed treats from Martha Lee's Kitchen. Please note that Fairy Day is a Hounds on the Grounds Blackout Date due to expected crowds.

SECRET GARDEN PARTY

THURSDAY, JUNE 5 • 4:00 PM – 8:00 PM

MEMBERS $120 / NON-MEMBERS $130

If you've been to one, you know. If you haven't, well, you don't. Don't miss your chance to get in on the coolest garden party series in the region. We're not telling you much – that's the secret part. But you'll be whisked by coach to a splendid spot where you'll enjoy some light nosh, refreshing drinks, and relaxing time in one of the coolest private gardens in town. All we're sayin' is that it's in Jefferson County.

FATHER'S DAY SPECIAL MENU

SUNDAY, JUNE 15 • 12:00 PM – 3:00 PM

Don't forget about the Dads! For Father's Day, come out for burger and beer specials at Martha Lee's, plus enjoy bird watching and hiking on the trails.

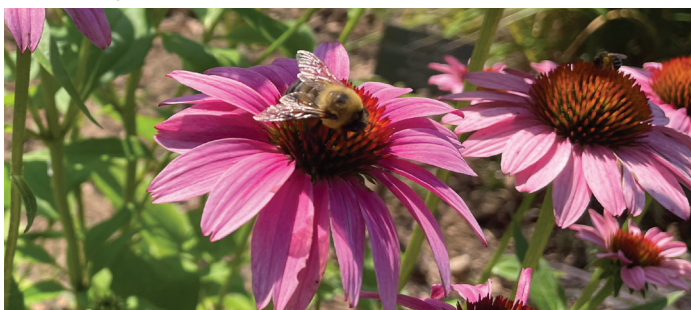

PLANT BITES: INVASIVE PLANT IDENTIFICATION AND MANAGEMENT WITH LUNCH

TUESDAY, JUNE 17 • 12:00 PM – 2:00 PM

MEMBERS $30 / NON-MEMBERS $40

Join Invasive Plant Coordinator with the Kentucky Division of Forestry, Adam Taylor, for a presentation to learn to identify invasive plants, what makes them undesirable, and how populations are being addressed across our region and the state. Following lunch and the lecture, we'll take a walk on the Woodland Trails to discuss our control efforts and strategies you can use at home. Ticket includes the lecture plus lunch with sandwich buffet from Martha Lee's Kitchen, and time to enjoy the gardens on your own.

CELEBRATE NATIONAL POLLINATOR WEEK WITH AN ADULT/CHILD WORKSHOP

SATURDAY, JUNE 28 • 2:00 PM – 3:30 PM

MEMBERS $30 / NON-MEMBER $40

Join District Program Director at Oldham County Conservation District, Mason Quiram, and his team for this fun and timely program during #nationalpollinatorweek. Learn about the importance of pollinators to our food supply and what we can do to protect and encourage their efforts. Ticket includes one adult and one child, plus a pollinator plant from our Nursery. This workshop is geared to adult/child pairs, and space is limited to eight pairs.

Don't miss your chance to get tickets for a workshop. Sign up for our monthly Garden eNews!

Castle Gardens Update

Another reasons to visit – the new Castle Gardens are gonna be awesome!

You've been hearing about it for two years, and the grand ribbon cutting is just about here! As we prepare to reveal the new Castle Gardens, here are some facts about the project:

- 150+ VARIETIES OF MORE THAN 5,000 PLANTS (ALMOST ALL PRODUCED IN OUR OWN NURSERY!)
- 250 CUBIC YARDS OF CONCRETE
- 665 CUBIC YARDS OF TOPSOIL
- 1565 LINEAR FEET OF IRRIGATION PIPE
- 1290 LINEAR FEET OF ELECTRICAL CONDUIT

We are looking forward to sharing this new garden with visitors all year long but especially at these two upcoming events:

'25 THEODORE KLEIN AWARDS

Each year a panel of Kentucky green industry professionals hunkers down and battles it out to see which plant nominees are deemed the Theodore Klein Award winners. These awards started back in 1999 and now add up to the go-to collection of woody and herbaceous garden plants for the region.

For more information about current and past winners, scan the QR code.

Silver Linden

(Tilia tomentosa 'Sterling')

A tree growing vigorously to 50' tall with a uniform outline, dense shade with leaves of deep green above and silver beneath, turning brilliant gold in fall. Late spring, creamy yellow flowers are sweetly fragrant. Super support for bees. Best in full sun.

Giant Dogwood

(Cornus controversa 'June Snow - JFS' June Snow™)

Stunning 20-30'-tall, broad spreading tree with attractive, horizontal branching. It is prized for its early summer, creamy white blooms that attract a wide range of pollinators and its excellent red/maroon fall foliage. Fall blue/black fruit are attractive to many birds. Grows best in full sun or part shade.

Dwarf Nine Bark

(Physocarpus opulifolius 'SMNPOTW' Tiny Wine®)

Dwarf, burgundy leafed selection of this North American native makes a dense, fine textured mound to 3-4' tall and wide. The dark foliage makes excellent contrast with late spring masses of lightly fragrant white/pink flowers. Tough, durable shrub that looks good all summer. Best in full sun or light shade.

Dwarf Hinoki Falsecypress

(Chamaecyparis obtusa dwarf cultivars)

Diverse group of low growing, sculptural, compact evergreens maturing at 3' to 8' depending on cultivar. Many varieties available with either bright or dark green or bright gold foliage. Best in full sun or light shade. Useful as a featured specimen, container plant, or in as a rock garden specimen.

Blue Star Amsonia

(Amsonia tabernaemontana 'Storm Cloud')

Native North American sun plant that forms dense masses of erect stems to about 3' tall, topped with sky blue flowers in spring. 'Storm Cloud' is a very vigorous form with deep, almost black stems and heavy flowering. Best in full sun and well-drained soil.

Evergreen Solomon Seal

(Disporopsis pernyi)

Stunning low groundcover to about 12" tall with evergreen (down to about 8° F) glossy, deep green leaves. Spring flowers are white/green bells to about ¾" long, hanging below the foliage. Modest spreader, easy to grow with average moisture and full to light shade.

VOLUNTEER HIGHLIGHTS

It takes quite a team to accomplish the kinds of projects we like to tackle at Yew Dell. A big part of that team is our volunteers! In February, volunteers and staff came together to celebrate their accomplishments in 2024. During this gathering, we reflected on our growth last year and celebrated our three “of the years,” volunteers who truly stood out through their work and dedication to the gardens:

Horticulture Volunteer of the Year
Jack Marcum

Volunteer of the Year
Judy Vetovitz

Behind the Scenes
Volunteer of the Year
Ed Hill

PERENNIAL SOCIETY

We also recognized our new Perennial Society volunteers - those who have invested more than 2,000 volunteer hours since our volunteer program began, way back in 2002. Thank you to our first inductees!

SUPPORTING YEW DELL

Yew Dell's mission is to spark a passion for plants and gardening through accessible science and inspiring beauty. But Yew Dell is so much more than that. If you want to be part of the support it takes to have a world-class gem like Yew Dell in our own community, we'd love to talk with you. Whether it is providing the inspiration for the next generation of horticulture scientists, offering a bit of beauty and a touch of green to combat the hassles of a busy week, or an essential space for our community to heal, we need your help to make it all possible.

Give us a call to talk about:

- Business Sponsorships and (NEW!) Business Memberships
- Planned giving strategies
- In-kind donations/services
- And no matter your level of support, everyone can help grow Yew Dell by spreading the word!

You can learn more about these opportunities by giving us a call at 502-241-4788. We'd be happy to answer your questions!

Yew Dell Botanical Gardens is a partnership project of the Garden Conservancy, a national, non-profit organization founded to help preserve America's exceptional gardens.
